

Liberal Education in the New Digital Ecosystem

Dr. Randy Bass, Georgetown University

Randy Bass is Vice Provost for Education and Professor of English at Georgetown University, where he leads the Designing the Future(s) initiative and the Red House incubator for curricular transformation. For 13 years he was the Founding Executive Director of Georgetown's Center for New Designs in Learning and Scholarship (CNDLS).

He has been working at the intersections of new media technologies and the scholarship of teaching and learning for nearly thirty years, including serving as Director and Principal Investigator of the Visible Knowledge Project.

He is currently a Senior Scholar with the Association of American Colleges and Universities, where he is co-authoring, with Bret Eynon, "Open and Integrative: Liberal Education in the New Digital Ecosystem."

Join the Conversation

Salt Lake Community College

Wednesday, April 6th, 1:30-2:30pm

Redwood Campus, Student Center Oak Room

Light refreshments will be served.